9:00 am Networking & Coffee

9:30 am Welcome & Introductions

10:00 am Description of Compendium Project and Current Status

- Goals of the project
- Overview of the process and current status
- Overview of the contents and sections of the compendium

10:30 am Setting the Stage and Logic Model

In the introductory sections of the compendium, we frame the document through a discussion of what it takes for all youth to be ready to enter and succeed in postsecondary education in the 21st Century, and we provide a logic model to connect the diverse points of intervention and short- and long-term goals along the educational pipeline. We will present AYPF's comprehensive definition of college- and career-readiness and logic model and allow ample time for discussion and feedback.

11:30 am Research Notes and Review of the Program Profiles

The compendium features 26 profiles of program evaluations. We will provide the advisory group with examples of the content and layout of the profiles, and discuss their readability and usefulness for the target audience.

- Methodology
- Categorization of evaluations: "Evidence of Effectiveness" and "Programs to Watch"
- Contents, layout and clarity of program profiles

12:15 pm Networking Lunch

1:00 pm Elements of Success, Participant Outcomes, and Matrix of Programs

We will present and discuss common themes that emerge from the evaluations that we have identified as programmatic and structural Elements of Success. We will also review the Participant Outcomes section, which summarizes the range and patterns of the outcomes measured in the included evaluations, as well as the Matrix of Programs.

1:45 pm Discussion of Policy Recommendations

The Recommendations section presents a number of implications and broad recommendations for policy that are drawn from the program evaluations we reviewed. The advisory group discussion will help to ensure that these recommendations are relevant, timely, and framed effectively.

2:45 pm Next Steps
